

You're not listening to me!

For the most part, we get along really well with the people around us. But what about those topics or issues when we just don't feel like we're being heard; the ones that over and over again leave us feeling frustrated?

This 2-evening course is designed to help you reduce the stress and increase the fun in your relationships, and is proven to resolve these concerns once and for all.

Vicki Fenn, President of Vicki Fenn Life Coach Inc, is a professional personal and executive coach who for the past 25 years has helped people define their purpose and direction, strengthen their communication and relationship skills, and achieve balance between their personal and professional lives.

What will I learn?

- Discover what has been in the way of your relationships being awesome
- Gain insight into why people do things "that drive you crazy"
- Convert judgement of self and others into appreciation and understanding
- Acquire tools for dealing with the day to day challenges of getting along with other people
- Know how to provide more productive, meaningful and relevant acknowledgement and feedback

How does it work?

Your facilitator, Vicki Fenn, is highly trained in the techniques that enable people to resolve interpersonal conflict, and have more fun, freedom and joy in their relationships.

Through teaching, and interactive discussion, you will discover why some issues keep repeating, and gain easy-to-use tools and techniques for reducing the frequency of arguments and conflict.
